STANDARD WEBSITES

If you have an new or existing website, chances are, it's not fully optimized. This means your website's code and content are not ideally setup, which reduces your ability to rank well in search results. Setup your website so search engines can easily determine what your website is about. Off-page optimization, links from external sites pointing towards your website, is also a big part of our process.

E-COMMERCE SOLUTIONS

We have the capacity to develop e-commerce websites, that is, websites that sell a variety of products online. Our turn-key open-source (free) solution incorporates an accounting system, and supports payments in multiple currencies, and multiple languages. Our quality of service and setup rates are some of the most affordable in the market. We also have experience optimizing various types of e-commerce websites.
